

CONGRATULATIONS CAPTAIN

EXCLUSIVE by Gupta Press

A big Corinthian congratulations to Admiral Taz & Abby on the arrival of their youngling, After a bad week for the Jedi leader he finally has had a good delivery!! The baby girl's name is still to be confirmed so if anyone has any suggestions for the happy couple we here at the Corinthian will be happy to pass them on. So far we have had the following: "I think Taz should call her Roy as he is a girl in the field" - Wookie Moore, "What about Kiera? Maybe it will remind Taz to bowl me" - Finger Watson, "Forget the name, when's the head wetting?" - Biff Tannen

THE CORINTHIAN

The pink hat award this week headed back to the bonce of captain not so fantastic - Admiral Taz. The soon to be father has been out of form this year with only 1 decent batting performance, yet again mofo Collins was out cheaply, but as always claimed it was the ball of the century! With 2 missed stumping & a dropped catch it was pink all the way.

The vote was a close one as Giles Greedo tied with Taz on the 1st round of voting, so it was onto a 2nd round between Greedo & Taz. Taz won by a single vote -unlucky!

No7 - How to reduce Darth Moore's blood pressure

After Darth decided to visit the docs to check on his health he decided to ask the Jedi their advice on reducing his blood pressure & after 6 pints of Guinness the advice was:-

1. Insist on poach eggs on your fried breakfast
2. Stop all exercise immediately
3. Branflakes but not the cheap brands (Why not?)
4. Laxatives (Why not?)
5. Stop peeing (a sign of a heart attack allegedly!)
6. Eat a full bulb of raw garlic
7. Eat aspirins
8. Take less speed (to slow down)
9. Increase weed intake (to chill out)
10. Order half's but drink pints (subconsciously it makes you feel better)

If I ruled the world

The recent big Euro millions prompted a tantalising question for the Jedi – what would you do with the money.

Uncle Daz “I would buy GTFC’s ground, knock the stadium down and build houses for the Jedi that overlooked the magnificently turfed new Corinthian home ground.”

Darth Moore “I would hire Tony Fart on a full time basis so that he can dedicate himself to the Jar-Jar cartoon series. I would also buy everyone a Corinthian Panini sticker album, but at the moment it’s a bit pricey.”

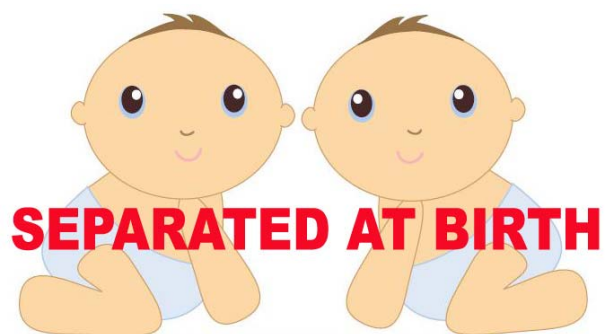

Fingers “Well all the Jedi would be at work during the day, so I would ditch the lot of them and get new friends and build a stadium for them so that they liked me.”

Brian ‘too new for a nickname but we are working on one which could be something to do with making rules up in friendly matches as he goes along’ Nicholson “I thought you all only talked like this when you were drunk”.

The Wookiee on tour in Santiago Chile

The Jedi Mongo bowler met his match this week - after a night in the Artbar we convinced the Brucie lookalike to pose with the life size cutout, It had been said that the Brucie actually had more personality & both were rumoured to wear wigs!!

"I think you're the worse Collins cricketer"

Fingers Watson to captain Taz

"You didn't deserve that Taz"

Brown tongued Uncle Daz

"I'll have a half this round please"

Darth trying to save his own life

"Cheers I did really want a pint but at least I had the right intensions"

Darth on receiving his pint of Guinness

"I was bowled by the best ball of the match, it just stayed so low"

Another excuse from Admiral Taz.

"But surely it was a stylish catch"

Darth Moore self promoting

WHAT'S IN MONGO'S MOP?

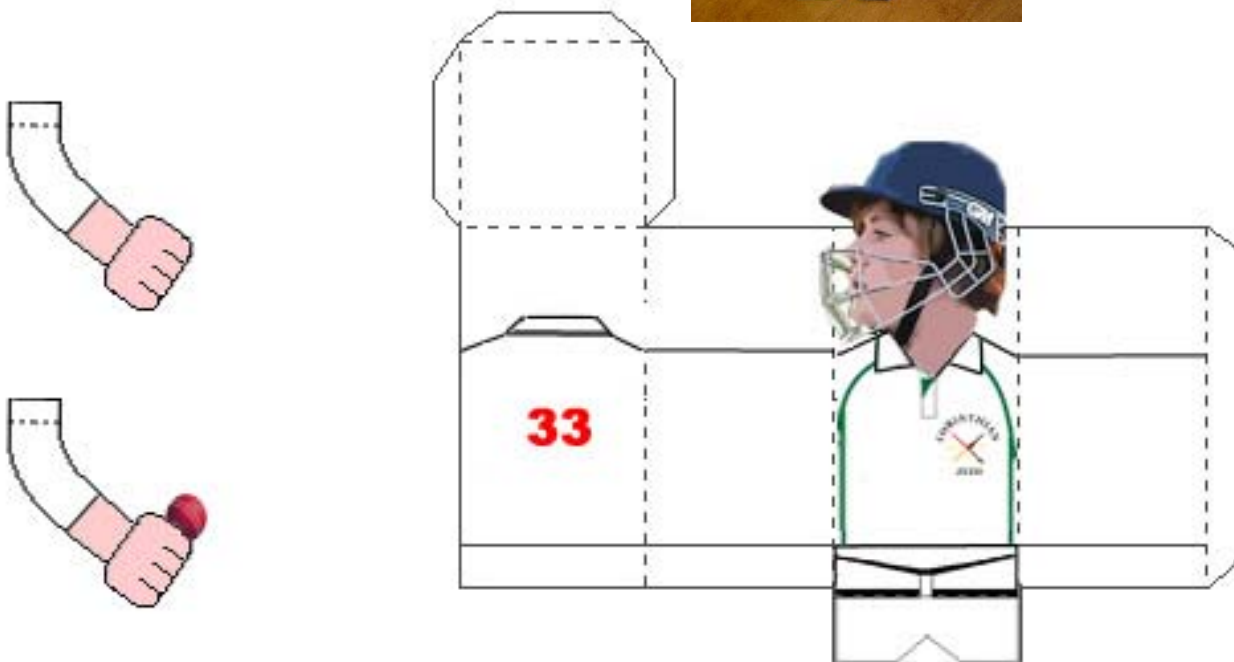

No4 in our new feature - What's in Mongo's Mop? Our favourite Mongo bowler's barnet is so out of control now that things get stuck in it all the time, what we at the Corinthian want to know is what in the mop?

THE CORINTHIAN

Hi to all the Corinthian readers this my 14th column for this magnificent newspaper, Admiral Taz Collins asked me to help him out with explaining to the rest of the Jedi the cricket fielding positions, as after 4 seasons most of them still have no Idea! I have come up with the idea of a cut out & keep Jedi Cricket team which can be used in the post match tactic room- The ArtBar,

Week 15 is the last remaining Jedi youngling Robbie We have decided to recreate the moment when he bowled bodyline at Kimble

More Folding fun next week

Mongo's Mop Answer

Yes that's right it's a tube of liquid nails for When he want to do a job properly - More next week

THE CORINTHIAN

Interesting week in the fantasy cricket with the Collins brothers having mixed fortunes, on top of the world is Nemo Collins - man of the match, nearly hitting a half century & younger brother Taz who dropped a catch, missed 2 simple stumpings, & was bowled for 2, his only highlight was a few beers in the Artbar to drown his sorrows after winning the pink hat, Darth took a stylish catch after everyone was bored of his campaigning to get the recognition!

TAXI FOR TAZ

The latest match in the Jedi season was a favourite – against Whitgift at the lane of butts! This ground has always been kind to the Corinthians with a 100% record everyone was feeling confident.

The Jedi lost the toss as per usual & were sent out to field. Kelly OSW & Nemo opened the Jedi bowling, both were bowling tight & Whitgift had only scored 19 off 5 overs, Nemo had a nightmare after Taz dropped an easy catch behind the stumps, & his last over went for 11 so he was told to 'take a rest' by Captain Taz. Darth replaced the gay icon & was hit for 8 off his 1st over, thus pushing the Whitgift total to 41 runs off 8 overs. Mongo replaced Kelly & by his 2nd over took the 1st Jedi scalp – a good one handed catch by Darth Moore (which by some bizarre reason was upgraded to stylish catch after Darth's campaigning in the Artbar). Giles Greedo got spanked on his 1st over for 10 runs including 3 wides given by the usual tight Whitgift umpiring!! Caribbean Soy had the Whitgift batsman tied up in knots & should have been stumped out except Captain Taz missed the stumps again! Kelly & Giles finished the last 2 overs with Kelly taking 2 wickets – a nice LBW & a bowled one.

The Jedi were chasing 112 runs for victory, they opened with a strong line up (on paper maybe) – Kelly OSW & Captain Taz, but shock horror Taz was bowled in the 2nd over for 2 runs, a bad day at the office for the Jedi leader. Mongo replaced him out at the crease & not long after Kelly was bowled by Thomas for a quick scoring 20, Uncle Daz headed out for a Clark-Clark attack, for the record this wasn't the most productive partnership as Daz ducked out for the 2nd time in a row & put himself into the Ogden frame. M&M Watson lasted for 4 runs before being caught -the Jedi were amongst the middle of a collapse 9 overs gone 6 wickets down & 47 runs, it was time for Nemo, the fishlike cricketer went for it & pushed the Jedi run rate on. Darth ducked out, & Growler was also caught for 3. The biggest problem was if the Jedi had enough wickets to see the match out? Giles Greedo & Nemo stuck a good partnership to lead the Jedi to victory with 4 overs spare Nemo hit an impressive 41 not out & had the game gone on surely would have made the half century honours board.

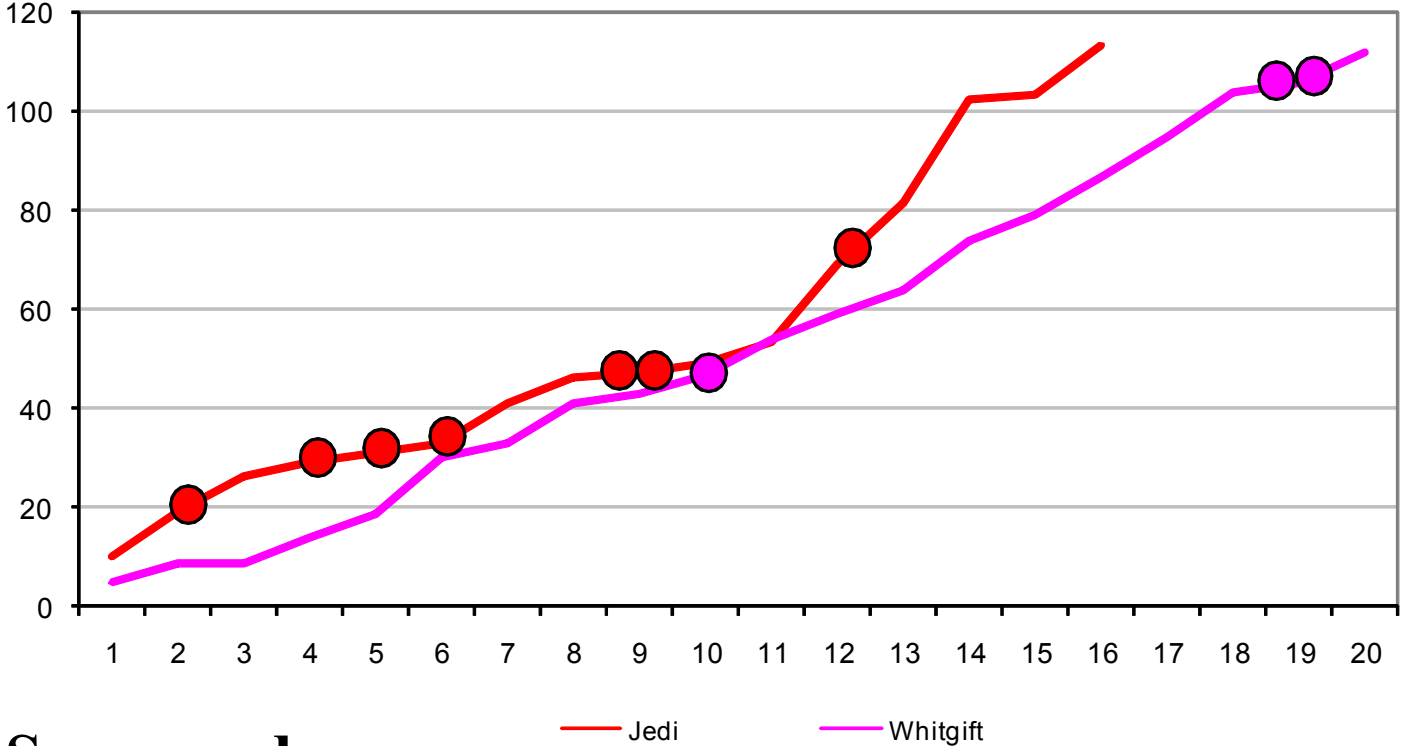

Mongo was batting with his lucky gimp suit under his whites

With the record intact the Jedi headed to the Artbar to celebrate in style.
